CATHOLIC CARLISTS IN WARLIKE MOOD

People to Come Armed for Strife.

BARCELONA, Aug. 17.-The Catholic Special to The Tribune. Carlists of Catalonia are engaged in active preparations for a series of open air

The proclamations issued by them summon the faithful to come to the defense of "holy religion and the mother church." They refer to the "accursed government" and addre the people to come armed and ready to sacrifice their lives for the pope, who has sent his blessing from Rome. The proclamations terminate in these words:

"Exterminate the incendiaries of convents and the violators of nuns. May God aid us to overthrow this impious government."

Demonstration Barred.

The government today decided to for-bid the Carlist-Republican meetings which were being arranged throughout Catalonia for August 28. The tone of the announcement of the intended demonstra-tions was such that disorder was feared.

GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE SET FORTH IN NOTE

SAN SEBASTIAN, Aug. 17.—A semi-official note, issued here teday, charac-terizes as utterly misleading the inti-mations published recently in the Obsermations published recently in the Observatore Romano in connection with the demand of the vatican for the withdrawal of the bill interdicting the presence in Spain of religious organizations not now in the country until such time as the law permitting non-Catholic bodies to display insignia of worship is passed.

This note says.

"First—That the principle of requiring government authorization for new religious establishments in Spain has existed in the country for centuries and was

In the country for centuries and was categorically affirmed in the royal decree of 1860.

Second-The intention to introduce the bill forbidding the presence of religious organizations was communicated May 26 to Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, who at that time agreed thereto and who has not since denied that

His brother, John McBride, Jr., 21 years old, sat in the front room of the apartment for an hour, ignorant of the fact that the boy was shot or that he was in the apartment. The body was discovered by his step-mother, who before her marriage last September was Miss Minnie Burmelster, of Salt Lake City.

Mrs. McBride left the house at about 3.15 to attend a moving picture show. Thomas was preparing then, she said, to clean his revolver, which had become rusted. She said she asked him not to try to clean the gun, but that he insisted. Mrs. McBride, who was in hysterics after the finding of the body and cried out time and again that she loved the boy dearly, says she is sure the shooting was an accident.

ceretary to Mayor H. C. Gill. Seattle, Wash.: "You may quote Mayor Gill as saying that he believes horse racing, together with the BOOK-MAK-ING feature, is demoralizing to any community. He knows that several young men have been financially ruined while the game was flourishing in Seattle. While he personally enjoys a horse race, he is not in favor of it as it has been conducted. There are no TURF EXCHANGES in Seattle. Horse racing was put out of business by the state legislature in the session of 1908; that is, racing with BOOK-MAKING feature attached. While the game was flourishing here the track association was not compelled to take out a license by either the city, county or state."

decretary to Mayor James C. Haynes, Minneapolis, Minn. Book-making is absolutely prohibited by a statute passed in 1895, and since that time there has been no open BOOK-MAK-ING, and for the past several years there have been no arrests or complaints, in Minneapolis at least, in that regard. In fact, BOOK-MAKING in any form appears to be a dead issue in this vicinity."
